

MAF Safety Presentation

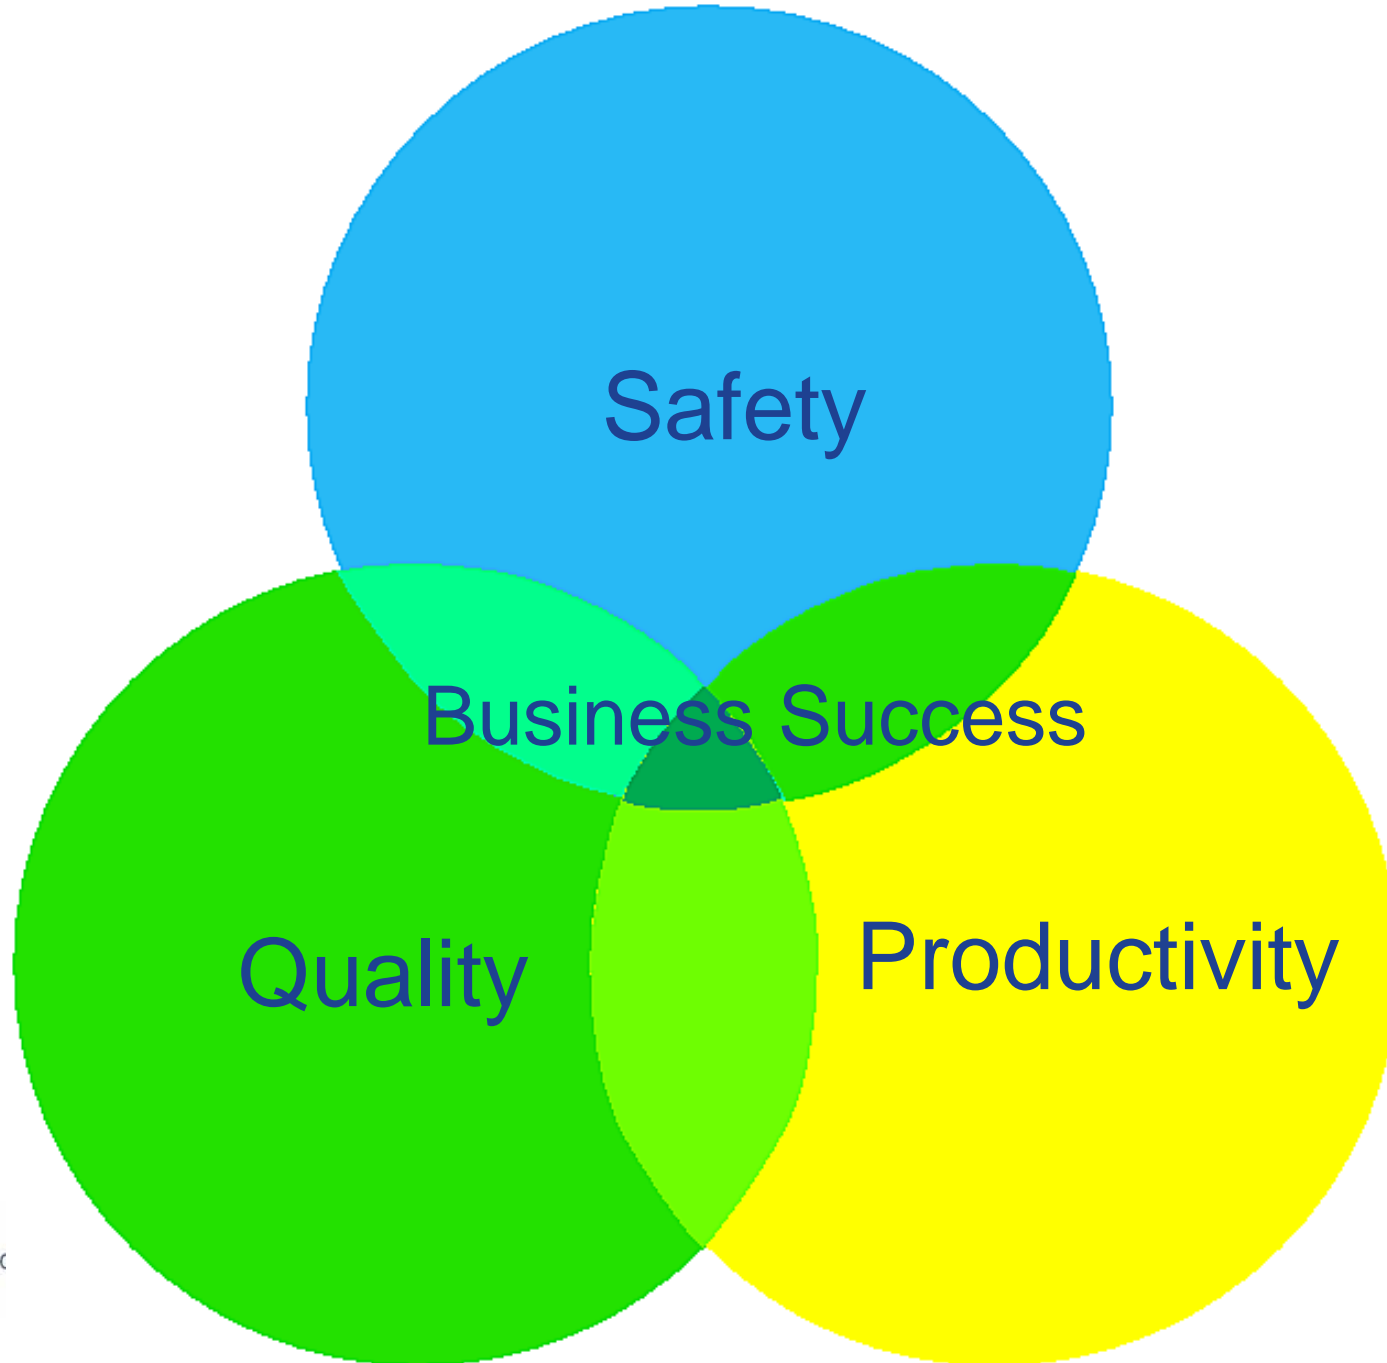

April 2010
Blair Simmons

imagination at work

Keys To Success

Leadership Commitment to EHS

“EHS and Security are the bedrock of our business. Our commitment to a safe and secure environment is fundamental to reliable and competitive operations. This in turn enhances GE’s reputation, and ultimately grows our business. Our success in this endeavor is grounded in the passion and ownership our employees demonstrate around the world. Their attention to detail, in every task, every day, is the reason we succeed.”

—John Krenicki

GE Vice Chairman, President & CEO GE Energy

Safety Culture

Supervisor Metric

Proactive

Communication

- Daily production meeting
- Daily toolbox talks
- Weekly documented

Training Completion

- Over 4200 units required in 2010
- Regulatory & Non-regulatory

Accountability

Audits

- General Housekeeping
- Chemical Management
- Work Rule Compliance
- Inspections/Record Keeping

Audit Finding Closure

- 90% regulatory findings closed within 30 days
- Non-Regulatory findings closed within 60 days

Employee Engagement

39 Site First Aid
Responder/ 5 Onsite
Certified Trainers

AED/CPR/FIRSTAID

Employee A.R.B.
Involvement ~
*Gathering Facts &
Finding Root Causes*

2009 Ergonomic Team
completed 12 Projects

EHS Concern Reporting

Over 116 EHS Related
Quality Thursday
Projects completed in 2009

EHS Perception Survey

EHS is important to GE,

Area leaders routinely mention EHS

I personally been involved with safety in the past 6 Months

I believe safety is my responsibility

When I observe a safety hazard, I report it

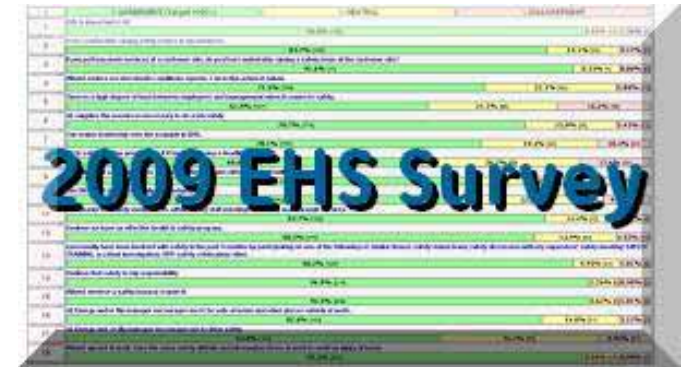

I feel comfortable raising safety issues

I believe we have an effective safety program

There is a high degree of trust between employees and management

At GE safety is a top priority even if it means missing a deadline or budget

Employee
Engagement

Senior Staff Engagement

Building a Strong EHS culture

Pensacola

Understanding
The Technicians'
Point Of View By Working A Day In
Their Shoes

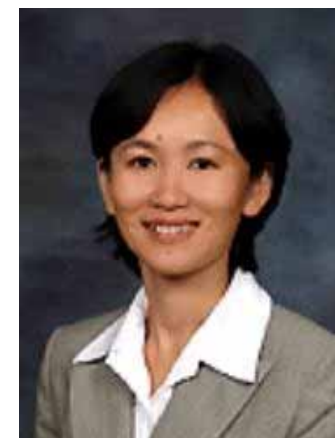

Plant Leader

EHS Leader

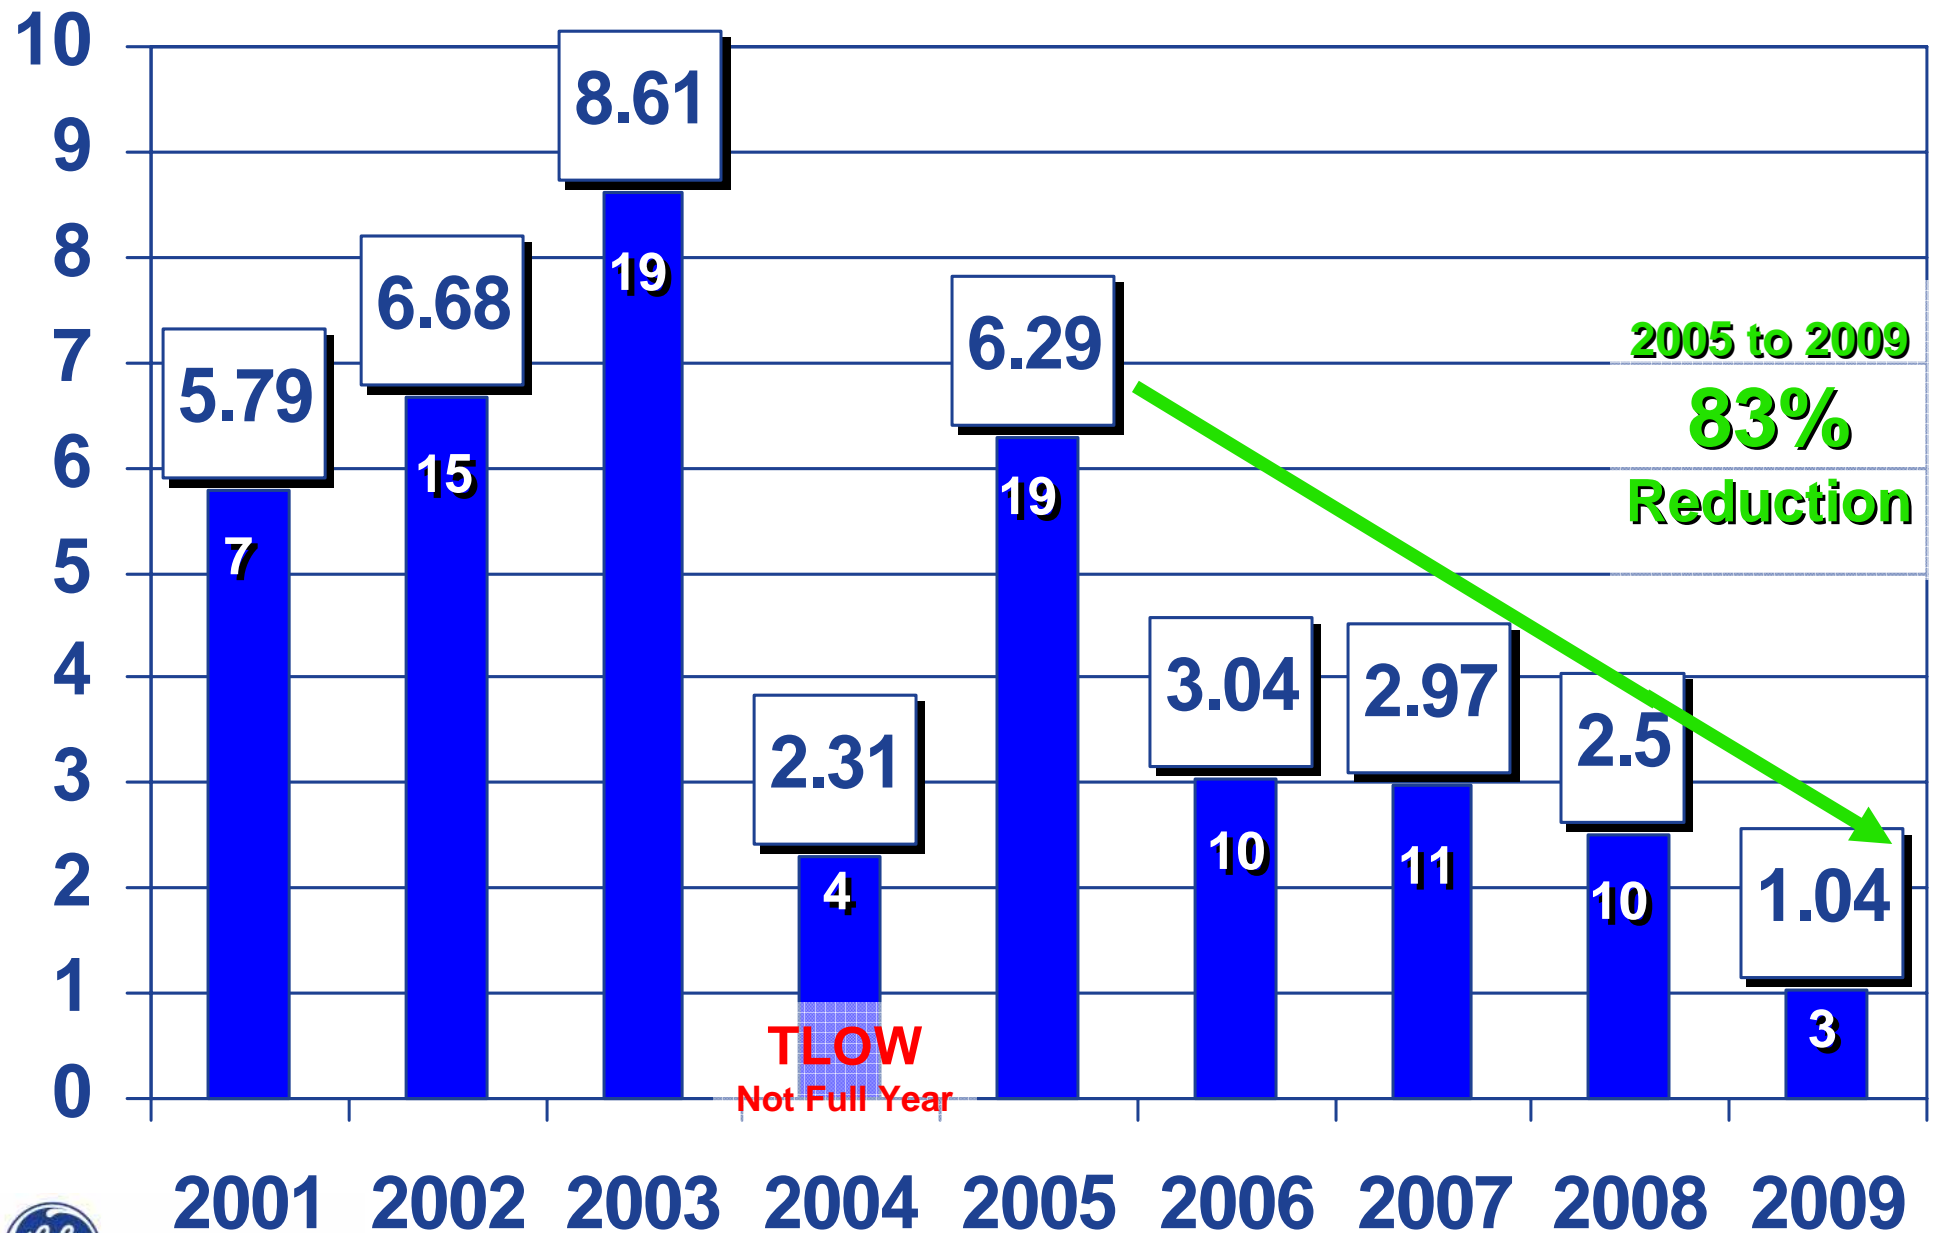

HR Leader

EHS

Plant I&I Rate History

Bottom-line

Our continuous improvement in Safety, protects and enhances our Company reputation.

Thank you!

